Stone Soup: The Power of Working Together – All Ages Welcome!

Saturday, October 12th – 10:00am - noon

Find out about some amazingly tasty “cool season” vegetables that you can grow right in your own backyard while participating in an interactive re-telling of the classic tale of community, cooperation and friendship. Then stay to make paper pots and plant seeds to start your very own Stone Soup Garden.

Groceries from the Garden

Saturday, October 19th – 10:00am - noon

Join us for hands-on fun – digging, exploring and learning about healthy food and habits from the “dirt up.”

Activities will include:

- Things in nature scavenger hunt
- Fruit and veggie tasting party
- Sprouting seeds for a tasty salad topping

Classes and Programs

$10 members/$15 non-members

Four-Season Landscapes

Thursday, October 3rd – 6:30pm - 8:00pm

Many gardens look beautiful in June or July, but what do they look like in September and into winter? Learn tips on which hardscapes and plants work best in our climate and provide year ‘round interest. Learn how to incorporate these ideas and create your own four-season landscape.

Herbs – Harvesting and Storing

Saturday, October 12th – 10:00am - noon

Fresh herbs from the garden need not end as winter approaches. Join us as we learn about harvesting annual herbs and storing them to retain their flavor and fragrance. Please dress for the weather as part of our class will be outdoors.

Fall Garden Care

Thursday, October 17th – 6:30pm - 8:00pm

Proper garden care in the fall helps ensure healthy plants for next spring. Learn techniques for taking care of your lawn, trees, shrubs and perennials, including fall fertilizing, mulching, cutting back and protecting plants from winter winds and animal damage. Tips will be shared for fall planting of woody plants and spring-flowering bulbs.

Garden Walks with Melinda Myers

Fall Finale

Saturday, October 5th – 10:00 am

$25 members/$30 non-members

Fall is a great time to plant bulbs, flowers, shrubs and trees. And a walk through Boerner Botanical Gardens will help you gather ideas for additions you’ll want to add to your landscape now or next season. We will look at multi-season plants that provide interest to the landscape in fall and beyond.

Fall Finale Fun Walk

Saturday, October 5th – 1:00pm

$25 per family (up to 5 individuals)

We’ll explore the touch, sound and smells of the gardens as we find all that fall offers. Our walk includes a scavenger hunt, bark rubbings, leaf prints and a garden activity you’ll take home to grow.

Thank you,
